BEAVER SPRINGS, Pa - Sun Precast Company Inc., headquartered in Beaver Springs, has recently obtained the prestigious Certified Plant status from the Architectural Precast Association (APA). APA Plant Certification requires architectural precast manufacturers to adhere to a strict set of industry quality control guidelines and processes, which must be verified by independent auditors every six months. Sun Precast's facility is also certified by the Cast Stone Institute, making the company one of only seven manufacturers nationwide to hold both plant certifications. "Our company has a tremendous reputation in the industry of producing high-quality architectural precast, and these certifications verify what we have known all along, which is that Sun Precast has excellent people and world-class processes," company President Joseph Schmadel said.
